Self-Publishing Tools

If you would like to publish your stories, here are some options.

Please be aware that there are several types of pdf. Making a Word document and then saving to pdf may create a pdf that is not compatible with some of these online publishing tools. It is often just as easy to upload a Word doc.

Print and online books

- Blurb http://www.blurb.com Photo books, print books, blog to book, ebook and more. Works like publisher. Can be tricky when words go over pages.
- CreateSpace http://www.createspace.com Print and e-book publishing platform from Amazon.
- Lulu http://www.lulu.com Create print and e-book formats; also create calendars and other items.

Online books only

- Flipboard http://www.flipboard.com E-zine publishing for mobile devices.
- Issuu http://www.issuu.com The fastest-growing digital publishing platform in the world. Online only, but easy to use.
- MagCloud http://www.magcloud.com Print and digital including glossy print magazines – by HP.
- Scribd http://www.scribd.com Popular subscription book service with strong social media leverage. (images may not be as clear as desired)
- Flipsnack ebooks online flipping book software that allows you to convert pdf into flip ebooks http://www.flipsnack.com/ (may have 15-page limit)
- ePaperFlip http://www.epaperflip.com/ allows conversion of PDFs into a unique digital page flipping experience in minutes. PDFs are converted into digital flipbooks that are viewable across all digital platforms and social media.
- Liberio https://liber.io/ http://blogs.slj.com/neverendingsearch/2014/07/23/liberi-o-from-docs-to-pub/
- Simplebooklet http://simplebooklet.com/index-sb.php
- iBooks Author http://www.apple.com/ibooks-author Self-publishing platform from Apple http://www.freetech4teachers.com/2014/01/helpful-ibooks-authortutorials.html?utm_source=feedblitz&utm_medium=FeedBlitzRss&utm_campaign=freetech4teachers#.Us3JYYwaySM